IV. Budgets

a. PAs

Keeley: They are a block budget and they are asking for $871.83

PA: We were approached about how important it is for students to get a good night sleep and we are planning an event for educating the students. We are inviting a speaker to come and speak about the importance. It should be a great event

Co-President Ngabirano: Questions?

Co-President Svendsen: what are branded sleep masks

PA: we are ordering 100 and they are the masks people sleep with at night and they say Gustavus

Co-President Svendsen: How many mypillows are you getting

PA: we did the two for one so we are getting 4

Co-President Ngabirano: Discussion?

Adviser VanHecke: in one of the recent surveys we saw that sleep is one of the issues gustavus students do not feel they have resources for

Allen: I have heard this speaker before and I am in full support of this budget

Speaker Young: Given the info from our advisor I am in full support of this event

Co-President Svendsen: with this being an additional amount on top of your block budget are you planning on having to up your block budget for future years? Can we explain block budgets really quick

Keeley: We give them a large lump sum every fall and we leave them up to their money and we can do that because they have a staff advisor who is in charge of their budget. We will be getting into this in the next few weeks

Co-President Svendsen: typically your budget has fulfilled your needs and do you think it will continue to

PA: we have submitted our block budget and the PEACH office has been supporting some of the costs for the PA's lately and we hope to continue this into future years

Harbeck: how do you plan to keep this event going since you are both seniors

PA: we hope that the PA's will continue it forward next year and we have reached out to other departments and individuals to continue this

Vote - passes

V. Old Business

a. Board of Trustees

Co-President Svendsen: We met about student life and all the notes we had from you all. We talked about concerns from students, praise for what has been working and all of the projects we have been working on. We were able to pass out the TMAVD bracelets to them and they were able to pass them on at their dinner

Co-President Ngabirano: Questions?

VI. New Business

Co-President Ngabirano: New Business?

VII. Announcements

Schugel: Apparel sign up I would like to have finalized by Wednesday. Also there is a track meet

Harbeck: GWIL is this Friday and will be incredible. Becky will be there you should all come

Co-President Ngabirano: Tonight or next Monday we have finance season and we have been good on attendance so please keep it up because we need you all here to pass these budgets

Chair Tram Nguyen: Life after the Hill event is this Thursday from 5-7pm in the banquet rooms.

Gunnigle: This is D week so there are tons of events going on and I will be reciting poetry.

Co-President Svendsen: Until 10pm the Swenson Bunn memorial award is open. It is a very meaningful award and I hope you all nominate a professor. Enjoy the nice weather
